Caroline Pearce-Browne Joins Reps as Co-Director

Reps Limited, the Real Estate Project Solutions provider, today announces that Caroline Pearce-Browne will be joining the company as a Co-Director. Caroline brings with her extensive experience in programme management, having worked for companies including JPMorgan Chase, Fortis and BNP Paribas. With a proven track record of helping clients manage change and running complex programme management delivery, Caroline's skills compliment that of the founder, Jerry Williams, whose expertise lies in the real estate field. Reps Ltd is now able to deliver a truly unique offering to clients who are looking to re-locate their business, rationalise their space or transition effectively in a new operating environment.

Speaking from the premises of their latest project, the AJ Gallagher offices in the new Walbrook Building, Jerry Williams comments: "I am delighted to welcome Caroline to the business as her experience will add depth and expertise to our client offering. Being able to advise clients on subjects such as organisational change, regulation, Merger & Acquisition activity and operating effectively in new environments is crucial in being able to take Reps to the next level in providing a superior service."

Caroline Pearce-Browne comments: "Reps is a well respected company within the corporate real estate industry and I am very pleased to be working with Jerry, whose knowledge in this area is superlative. I am bringing a complimentary skill set to this very successful business in order that it can grow and offer a greater range of services to organisations facing the prospect of change to their operational space or location."
